A CLASH ON TARIFF

Will Probably Occur When Congress Re-convenes—A Supplemental Bill to be Pushed if the Programme of Certain Sencrats Doubt the Desirability of Such Ac-

Washington, Nov. 19 .- When the senate reconvenes on the first Monday n next month, unless the programme mapped out by certain senators should be rearranged, there will probably be s clash on the tariff question. Senstor Harris states that he intends to push the supplemetal tariff bill for action as soon as possible after congress. convenes (which probably means after the holiday recess). This is in accord with the statements he made on the floor of the senate at the time the socalled "pop-gun" tariff bills were referred to the finance committee. The bills relating to free iron ore, coal and barbed wire came from the finance committee practically as they went there, but the bill placing sugar on the free list was pigeonholed and a substitute was reported, placing a duty of 40 per cent. on all sugars, thereby doing away with the differential oneeighth duty that operates to the advantage of the refiner, and the discriminating one-tenth duty that operates against the German exporters.

Democratic senators, not among those classed as conservatives, express doubts as to the desirability of attempting to pass any of the tariff bills now on the senate calendar at the next session. One of these senators. appreciates the fact that there are leading men in his own party who, aided and abetted by republicans, will use every effort to prevent the present sugar schedule being amended and that to attempt it would result in nothing more than the consumption of valuable time that would be needed in the consideration of measures upon which political lines would not be drawn and upon which the country is demanding action by congress. To make sugar free, in view of the letter of Secretary Carlisle, and in view of the small receipts under the new law so far, this senator insists, is utterly impossible, and to seek to change the sugar schedule in any way, he thought, would be equally unwise, as it would open up anew the tariff debate, and start a flood of talk that, once unloosed, could not be checked.

RENDEZVOUS FOR CRIMINALS. The Government May Employ Troops to Put Down Lawlessness in the Indian Ter-

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.-The Indian territory, because of the peculiar conditions surrounding it, is regarded in official circles here as a rendezvous for all the cut-throats, gamblers and ieves in the country, and government officials find it difficult, because of the extent of the country and the opportunities for hiding in the brush and woods to deal with them. The attorney-general has empowered the marshals to employ all the deputies necessary to put down lawlessness and crime, but as the outcroppings of crime occur spasmodically in various sections almost inaccessible. great difficulty has so far been experienced in catching up with the crim-

Attorney-General Olney said to-day that while crime and lawlessness were prevalent to a considerable extent, still there was no open revolt or revolution; the judicial authorities had not asked for United States troops; the postmaster-general had not complained that the mails were obstructed, and up to the present time there seemed to be no more lawlessness than could be properly attended to by the civil authorities. Should the judicial authorities ask for troops in the proper manner and the government felt that troops were necessary to properly enforce the civil. law, the government would not hesitate in sending troops to the Indian territory, but as at present advised, he believed the United States marshals were competent to cope successfully with the situation.

A FLORIST'S BLOODY DEED.

He Kills the Woman He Loved and Cuts

His Own Throat—Regrets that Came Too-NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Richard Leach 31 years old, a florist, who lives with his reputed wife, a young woman named Mary Hope Newkirk, at 412. West Forty-ninth street, killed her early yesterday morning by cutting her throat and then tried to end his own life in the same manner, using a small penknife. The woman died almost instantly. Leach, however, was taken to Bellevue hospital, where it is: thought he has a chance of recovery. No one except the victim and her murderer was in the room of the couple-when the tragedy was enacted. A search of the apartments where the tragedy occurred resulted in thefinding of a letter written in pencil. Some portions of it were illegible. As much of the writing as was decipherable, read thus: "S. H. Moore-This is your fault. She is dead and you are the cause. My own Mamie has been dead twenty minutes. I thought I was dead at the same time. See that she has a decent burial. I am dying. Dick. "Oh how I regret it. Lovely women, do be true to your husbands. There was also found a slate upon which was written: "Tell this to Rev. Fr. Cartly and Miss Vivian Brent, Charles, Maryland. My love is dead. My love is dying. I am almost dead.'
